

Doug Adkins – New CD “Lonesome” Release January 2016

Lonesome - The follow up CD to the 2010 Release “Waltz Across Montana” is Here!!

Averaging over 60 shows per year since 2000, Doug Adkins, a main attraction on the European festival and club circuit and with his radio success including songs “Whiskey Salesman,” “Window Shoppin’,” “Waltz Across Montana,” “Why Not,” “Loved You More,” and “Bismarck,” Doug is ready to once again add to his already respectable reputation as one of the hardest working pure Country Music Traditionalists in the business.

Thank you for taking the time to consider and be a part of bringing his newest work, “Lonesome,” to the public!

12 new original songs from singer / songwriter from the Big Sky State of Montana releases his 8th CD titled Lonesome. A major attraction on the European Country Festival circuit, Doug is making his push to bring this new project to the Americana Public not just in the U.S. but across the globe, and surely appreciates your assistance.

A Concept Album in Country?

The songs on this CD take you through the whole experience from being attracted to someone and that first time you meet someone and you just can’t wait to sneak away with her, into your truck and maybe you’ll just get stuck in the mud in “Little Thing Called Love (Track #1),” onto he’s seeing “Forever by Your Side” (Track #2). Onto (Track #5) where he’s waking up next to that special someone and he just can’t help but say “Good Morning Beautiful,” there’s no place I need to go onto to “The Nightmare Song” (Track #8) where he wakes up dreaming she’s left him only to realize it was just a nightmare instead, it was all inside his head. (Track #9) is the turning point of the CD, a powerful waltz titled “Habits and Hearts” which details that those moments of cheatin’ and those late nights of drinkin’ put them both under! Of course there needs to be a fun little song called “Jim” (Track #10) where he’s talking to the bottle of Jim Beam telling him (the bottle) he won't convince him again to go knock on her door again. Doug brings the project around nicely with the heart break song "You Don't Need To Call Me," (Track #11) and finishes the story off with the final number "Houston," where he's asking Nasa to help find her because he's sure he can keep her this time!

Born and raised in Montana, performing by age 6 with sisters Jackie who played piano and Betty Jo. Together they formed the Adkins Trio and sang at festivals across Montana and the Midwest U.S.

Fast forward to 2015! Eight (8) successful CDs later, with Powerful Deep Rich Vocals, and his Traditional Style of Songwriting, Doug is one of the top live acts on the European Country circuit today! Exciting stage show, top tour band, personality and enthusiasm!
